PRESENTING THE GAY CLASSIC CAR GROUP

They're a cheerful lot in the Gay Classic Car Group and it's easy to see why. No politics, great cars and socials galore

In these sexually enlightened times, the point of the Gay Classic Car Group isn't immediately obvious. However, as the club's Darren Mitcham explains: 'When the group was formed back in 1988, classic car fans with same-sex partners were often not made very welcome within the more traditional club environment. 'Setting up the GCCG provided the perfect solution, and with membership growing by more than ten per cent each year, the club is clearly still serving its original purpose.' Darren reckons it is the club's use of technology that's helped with this. As well as running a thriving online forum, memberships can be bought online and there's a monthly electronic newsletter. That's on top of the infamous Big End full-colour quarterly magazine which helps members stay in touch with each other.

Gay pride: members of the GCCG strut their stuff.

Darren says: 'Membership currently stands at around 650 spread over nine regions. What's interesting about the GCCG's members is that many of them are under 35, which is why we've got lots of Eighties cars in the club. But we've also got pre-war cars, plus some exotic machinery - the GCCG is vibrant and packed with variety.' The club has socials, drives and trips out pretty much every weekend - a recent run to the Morgan Motor Company factory saw more than 50 GCCG members descend on Malvern.

THE INTERNATIONAL DIMENSION

The GCCG works with equivalent groups in the Netherlands, France, Germany, the US and Australia. As a result there are annual overseas trips which are always well attended.
